

The models seem to show good predictions of the ER probability againsts the antibiotic concentration C

We need data measuring both P_R vs C and r_D vs C

What about the dependence of r_{max} and λ to C ?